Testimonials

Here's the inner life of families living with visual-spatial learners. This little companion is user-friendly: You're not deluged with scads of words to wade through, but the concepts and suggestions pop out at you with a warm hug and knowing smile. And you'll laugh out loud as you recognize puzzle pieces of your "topsy-turvy" family converge. Gratefully, practical sensible solutions accompany every perplexing quality. I surprisingly found myself in every idea as Allie divulged qualities of visual-spatial learners.

I just wish that this entertaining advocate for perplexed parents and teachers of visual-spatial learners had been available decades ago. We've lost too many bright children to restrictive educational systems. Sigh...

Elizabeth Meckstroth, M.Ed., M.S.W. Author of Guiding the Gifted Child, Teaching Young Gifted Children in the Regular Classroom

If you're the parent of a visual-spatial child, this book is for you. If you don't know what type of child you have, this book can tell you if your child is visual-spatial... and if you are. Do you remember in pictures? Does your child learn better hands-on, or by taking notes in charts and colors? If so, you've got a visual-spatial child.

Now what? Allie gives suggestions for parenting and educating these wonderful, but unique, kids. Does your child's room look like a bomb hit, but she knows exactly where everything is? How can you help your child through those elementary years and beyond? Allie offers help, and hope, for parents of visual-spatial kids.

Do you find that you struggle with a visual-spatial spouse...? Raising Topsy-Turvy Kids brings insight to the rest of the family, too.

If you've got a gifted child who seems to learn differently than the school is teaching, you need this book!

Cindy M., parent of a visual-spatial son.

I feel like I've been given a gift. I now understand my son, daughter, myself and my husband so much better.

Shelley P., conference attendee of Raising Topsy-Turvy Kids

The things I learnt at your presentation I did not know before. It helped me understand why I'm bad at maths. It made me feel special. Thank you for helping me realize who I truly am.
Callum of Melbourne, Australia and attendee of If You Could See the Way I Think: A Workshop for Visual-Spatial Kids
